Discussion Questions

If I Knew Then by Jann Arden

1. From the first line in the memoir: “I don’t think I became a person – meaning a somewhat capable, self-conscious, empathetic, thoughtful, kind and relatively intelligent human being – until I was forty-five years old”. Would you agree with the author? Why or why not?
2. The author had a very troubled relationship with her father. Do you think this relationship was instrumental in creating her artistic talents?
3. “I always felt I needed to do what other people thought I should be doing. I was so worried about other people’s perception of me that I kept forgetting what I wanted, thinking I better not let anybody down or else. The funny part was that I was letting myself down, constantly.” Could you relate to this comment?
4. What surprised you most about the authors life?
5. “People love spreading bad news. I wish that wasn’t true, but it is. I think it has something to do with facing our own mortality. When bad things happen to other people, if I knew then we breathe a collective sigh of relief that it didn’t happen to us, and we want to talk about it.” Do you agree this may have to do with facing our own mortality?
6. Were you familiar with Jann Arden the musician, author, actress or all the above? If not, will you try to experience any of her many artistic contributions?
7. “Getting older in this life is a privilege.” Do you share this sentiment by the author?
